Rocky Enterprise Linux 9.2 Manual Pages on command 'unopkg.1'

$ man unopkg.1

unopkg(1)   User Command   unopkg(1)

Name

    unopkg - LibreOffice Extension Manager

SYNOPSIS

    unopkg [add] <options> extension-path...

    unopkg [remove] <options> extension-identifier...

    unopkg [list] <options> extension-identifier...

    unopkg [reinstall] <options>

    unopkg [gui]

    unopkg [--help|-h]

DESCRIPTION

    LibreOffice is a fully featured office suite for the daily use with all features you would normally expect in an office suite.

    There exists many LibreOffice extensions all over the world. For example, see https://ex?

    tensions.libreoffice.org/

    This tool allows managing the extensions from the command line.

SUB-COMMANDS

    add   add the given extensions

    remove remove extensions by the given identifiers

    reinstall

        reinstall all deployed extensions (only for experts)

    list   list information about the deployed extensions

    gui   raise Extension Manager Graphical User Interface (GUI)

OPTIONS

--help|-h

display help and exit

--version|-V

output version information and exit

--verbose|-v

verbose output

--force|-f

force overwriting existing extensions

--log-file <file>

custom log file; the default one is <cache-dir>/log.txt

--shared|-f

operate on the system installation deployment context; use only when no concurrent

Office process(es) are running! (only for experts)

--deployment-context <context>

operate on explicit deployment context (only for experts)

TROUBLESHOOTING PROBLEMS

See http://wiki.documentfoundation.org/BugReport for more details about how to report bugs

in LibreOffice.

SEE ALSO

http://www.documentfoundation.org/

AUTHOR

This manual page was created by Petr Mladek <pmladek@suse.cz>.

LibreOffice Extension Manager   2008-03-18   unopkg(1)